Catwalk TO closet

How to turn high-fashion trends into real-life chic.

This month: BOLD PRINTS

From Peter Pilotto's engaging tropical tones to Mary Katrantzou's abstract prints and Christopher Kane's florals, there was a plethora of prints on the S/S 12 catwalks, illustrating a thoroughly modern way to wear colour. Head-to-toe clashing print is one of the harder trends to wear this season and best left on the catwalk. Instead, go for a pared-down interpretation of the look by teaming one key patterned piece with neutral separates. Here, Bazaar's Pippa Vosper and Selfridges' Zia Zareem-Slade pick their favourite print offerings and show you how to work them.

Pippa's MODERN CHIC

'I love this Altuzarra skirt - it captures the trend perfectly, and paired with this understated navy top, it makes a great day-to-night look. As someone who favours an all-black wardrobe, I was surprised at how easy and uplifting it felt to wear such vibrant tones. Structured black heels and an oversize Alexander McQueen clutch give the look a harder edge and prevent it being too girly.'
